

WHEN MUST OFFICIAL POLITICAL PARTY POLICY NEVER BE MENTIONED IN PUBLIC? When it involves the United Nations AG21/sustainability agenda of course!

UN SAYS COUNTRIES MUST EMBED UN AGENDA IN BUREAUCRACY SO VOTERS HAVE NO DEMOCRATIC CHOICE
In 2001 the United Nations instructed countries (see p17, Guidance in Preparing a Sustainable Development Strategy, CSD; 1) that the UN Agenda 21/sustainable development agenda must be “continuous” & beyond party politics so a change of government will not stop the UN’s global agenda.

AUSTRALIAN POLITICIANS OBEDIENTLY OBEY UN WITH BIPARTISAN POLICIES TO EMBED AGENDA 21 TO PREVENT DEMOCRATIC CHOICE

For 21 years years, from Keating in 1992, to Howard in 2007, to Julia Gillard in 2013 (2), all major political parties implemented the ‘non-binding’ United Nations Agenda 21 program (3) even though they prevented the people from having any democratic choice (4). In 1994 then Foreign Minister Gareth Evans advised the UN in New York (5), that Australia must be monitored to ensure compliance with Agenda 21. in 2012 Julia Gillard renewed Australia’s commitment to Agenda 21 & the UN’s 2015-3030 global agenda (6), a commitment which is being continued by the Turnbull government.

FROM 1994-2010 THE ALP INCLUDED UN AG21 IN OFFICIAL POLICY PLATFORM WHILE GILLARD RECOMITS IN 2012

In the “International Cooperation” section of their 1994 policy platform, the ALP specifically promises to implement AG21. In 2004 the ALP reinforced their commitment to AG21 in Clauses 77 and 78 of Chapter 15, Australia’s Place in the World, of the 2004 ALP National Platform & Constitution. Similarly, the ALP officially includes Agenda 21 in their Environmental Diplomacy policy detailed in Clause 105-06 of the 2007 ALP National Platform. In the 2011 ALP Policy Platform however, although further substantiating and consolidating their allegiance to United Nations environmental initiatives, they decided to omit specific reference to Agenda 21. But one year after deciding to delete mention of Agenda 21 from the ALP policy platform, Julia Gillard renews and expands Australia’s commitment to the AG21/SDG 2015-2030 agenda (5). In the 2015 ALP National Policy Platform \(12\), the ALP promises even more allegiance to the UN & forcing Australians to obey UN demands even though avoiding any specific mention of AG21.

POLITICAL CENSORSHIP & THE POLITICAL POLICY THAT MUST NOT BE MENTIONED IN PUBLIC – ESPECIALLY DURING ELECTION CAMPAIGNS!

In 2013 Kyam Maher, SA Labor MP, mocked Agenda 21, which was long time ALP policy, as a ‘conspiracy’. In 2003 Environment Minister Greg Hunt was part of the Employment in the environment: Methods, Measurements and Messages enquiry which discussed methods used by the Commonwealth to coerce Councils into implementing AG21. Ten years later though, in 2013, Greg declared he “had never heard of” the Agenda 21 program they discussed!

FROM LIBERAL POLITICIANS, TO ALP POLITICIANS, TO THE MEDIA, TO THINK TANKS SUCH AS THE INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS, ALL AGREE THAT LONG TIME LIBERAL/ALP AGENDA 21 POLICY IS SOMETHING WHICH MUST NOT BE DISCUSSED IN PUBLIC.

NOW OUR POLITICIANS ARE SIGNING UP FOR A CONTINUATION OF, & EXPANSION OF, THE UN AGENDA 21 PROGRAM, NOW TERMED THE SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS \(SDG\) & THE POST-2015 AGENDA.
