

Carbon Tax Corruption Scandal: Part 4 – This is Going to Hurt, by The Galileo Movement

In previous episodes we realised that contrary to what the Greens say, humans do care; government and Greens climate policies contradict science; and, human carbon dioxide does not drive temperature or climate. It's not polluting Earth's atmosphere. Nature controls climate.

So why do they tell us lies? Why do they want to tax you for carbon dioxide?

Let's follow the money.

Firstly, it's the perfect revenue base. It's taxing our breathing. Carbon dioxide is essential for life. Carbon is in every cell of every living organism. All plants, animals, humans.

Second, it's in fuels generating vital, clean electricity: coal and gas. It's in our only fuels for mobility: oil, gas and ... ethanol.

Third, it's essential. When prices rise from carbon dioxide taxing or 'trading' or rationing schemes people have no alternative. They're forced to pay more.

That leaves families less to spend. That reduces small business income. Paying the tax, small business costs increase. Small business squeezed in government's clamp. No compensation for small business, Australia's largest employer.

Our major exporters will be hammered because their competitors have no such extra cost. That exports jobs overseas, as is happening in Europe. Production moves to developing nations with poor technology causing real increases in real pollution: sulphur dioxide, nitrous oxides and particulates.

The actual government, Bob Brown's Greens, want to start the tax at four times the government's rate. And that's just for their first step.

You see, the tax is open-ended. It's designed to be ratcheted upward. No compensation for future ratcheting.

Will you let Gillard and the Independents give the Greens an open cheque?

But a tax is not enough for the Brown-Gillard alliance. They plan to add a carbon dioxide 'trading' scheme in 2015. A second tax plus rationing plus sending hundreds of billions of dollars overseas. For nothing. Including billions in brokerage to major international banks. For nothing. Brown and Gillard are trying to slap us with two taxes, both ratcheting upward open-ended.

As Gillard said herself: “to cause pain”. To change people’s behaviour.

The government pledged part of the tax revenue to UN bureaucrats for their Green Fund. Gillard and Brown are saying UN bureaucrats can spend your money better than you can.

A small group of UN bureaucrats formed before 1972 without accountability to anyone. Initially led by Canadian billionaire Maurice Strong, first Secretary-General of the corrupt United Nations Environmental Program, the political wing that formed the IPCC. Those bureaucrats have driven climate fraud for 40 years.

And:

Bob Brown recently admitted pushing global governance. In 2009 Copenhagen’s draft treaty exposed clauses to control national finances, energy, property rights, resource allocation and national sovereignty.

Imagine Bob Brown in a world government. Dictating to you after stripping you of basic property rights and freedoms.

In these videos so far we have covered the core's three main parts: firstly, misrepresentation of science; secondly, basic facts on carbon dioxide and temperature; thirdly, the economics and how it will hurt you financially. It will hurt your wallet and bank account while robbing you of your basic freedom.

Knowing you care, and now understanding the core, here are some cures: First, set people free. Stop the unfounded peddling of soul-destroying fear and guilt constantly bashing our kids and communities. Second demand a Royal Commission into government's spreading of UN misrepresentations, deceptions and lies. Third, stop every attempt to artificially increase energy prices.

Ignoring massive environmental benefits of modern science, technology, civilisation and industry, some say: "raise prices anyway".

Canadian environmentalist, Lawrence Solomon though says, quote: "But Kyoto", and by 'Kyoto' he means the UN's failed carbon dioxide taxing, trading and rationing schemes. "But Kyoto is not an insurance policy. Just the opposite, it is the single greatest threat today to the global environment, because it makes carbon into currency. Carbon is the element upon which all living things are built. With carbon a kind of currency which is what all carbon taxes and carbon trading and similar schemes do all ecosystems suddenly have a commercial value that makes them subject to manipulation for gain."

Raising energy prices cannot affect climate because CO2 levels are a result of temperature, not a cause. Raising energy prices will increase your electricity bill, your petrol bill, your grocery food bill. Your cost of transport, housing, clothing, lighting, heating, air-conditioning, health services, water and sewerage prices, communication, information services, computing, entertainment, even holidays.

For nothing. Because CO2 levels are a result of temperature, not a cause.

Our web site reveals how raising energy prices will, in four ways, seriously hurt the environment. Impoverish hundreds of millions of people. And kill more people than did the UN's deadly ban on DDT. And that was over 30 million deaths.

For nothing. A crooked scam designed to steal your money and regulate you. To control us.

Science shows no need for any CO2 trading, rationing or tax. They're costly attacks on you, humanity, the environment and our future.

Instead, to really care, lets together address the many real humanitarian and environmental challenges that we actually face. Lets protect small business, families and happiness, by freeing people from unfounded fear and guilt.

In the next video we'll discuss what we can each do to protect freedom.
